

Jeremiah Thayer is currently enrolled at Aiken Technical College and is pursuing a Business Administration degree in Accounting. Having worked in a variety of industries he is well suited to understanding the issues and needs confronting today's workplace. Currently, he is working as an intern Research Assistant at Matson Consulting and focusing on the formation of documents and the management of the website.